Thank you for your letter of 10 January, to which I have delayed my reply while a determination was being made as to the current possibilities of your coming with us.

I find that we have no current vacancies for which your experience and training would fit you, and it would be difficult to predict just when such a vacancy might occur. We will, however, continue to examine our situation and will retain your application in case something does come up in which you might be interested. In such case we will contact you again.

Should you have occasion to be in this vicinity at any time we will be glad to arrange for your interview in connection with future possibilities. In such an event I would like to suggest you get in touch with Mr.

 Mr.  is our personnel director, and will take care of arranging interviews for you.

Your interest in this agency is much appreciated.

Sincerely,

SIGNED

R. H. HILLENKOTTER

Rear Admiral, USN

Director of Central Intelligence
